Notice.

DIFFICULTIES arising from the nature of the following work, the publisher has been compelled to remove to Philadelphia for the better execution of his plan. The editorial department has in consequence fallen into other hands. Mr. ALLEN's present engagement rendering it impossible to superintend it in another city. The friends and relations of the different signers to the Declaration of Independence are therefore requested to direct their favors to the publisher, No. 443, Market-street, Philadelphia.

PROPOSALS

By Joseph M. Sanderson,

For Publishing by Subscription,

A Biography of the Signers OF THE Declaration of Independence,

Accompanied with Plates.

To which will be annexed a History of the Proceedings of Congress, during the passage of the Law, and the Declaration itself, with the fac simile Engravings of the Signatures.

By JOHN SANDERSON.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exertion of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek in vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprizes of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements to the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorible prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptible rights of humanity by the "mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors;" and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life.—Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the sleeps of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valour.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens, with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontispiece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similies of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

The editors have information on which they can rely, that the consequences of the rash invasion of the Spanish territory, by a handful of men from the American lines, are proving to be such as might naturally have been expected. After the dispersion of these men, those settlers in Texas who had associated with them were left in the most pitiable condition. All the American settlers have been obliged to cross over to this side of the line, and leave behind them the fruits of their industry and the hopes of their families. The Spaniards from St. Antonio, 1700 strong, with six pieces of cannon, were, about the 1st of this month, near Labadie. Their intention was to establish a post at Nacogdoches, and settle the Province. General Long had gone to Lafitte's, at Galveztown; and it was considered unsafe for him to return by the route by which he went out. With such materials as composed the expedition, it was impossible any other result could have attended it. The soldiers were generally of the most worthless order—men unfit for any service, and even such as were discharged, on account of their worthlessness, from the service of daily laborers at Baton Rouge and other posts. [Ibid.

MURDERED,

In Highgate, on Sunday last, about sunset, Mr. Rufus Jackson, a young man of an amiable disposition, and unimpeachable character, and who had been intrusted as a clerk in the store of Samuel Keyes, Esq. for this five years past, by Luther Virginia, a colored man. The circumstances of this atrocious deed are, that this ruffian lay in ambush about half a mile from the store, and knocked the deceased from his horse, and killed him with a sled stake. The deceased was robbed of his watch, and the key of the store. The horse, in the affray, broke his bits, and returned home, which gave the alarm, and raised a suspicion that the deceased was murdered by this monster in human shape, who had been for some time lurking about the village. The deceased was soon found, and the ruffian pursued into the province of Canada, where he was arrested; in bed with his wife, (before he had washed the blood from his hands or clothes,) and committed to St. Alban's prison.——The watch and key were found between his beds.

Ogdensburgh, N. Y. Nov. 16.

CASUALTY.

On Wednesday last, a coroner's inquest was called to view the body of a man found dead in the woods, about two miles from Arnold Smith's, in the town of Rossie, and about 4 rods from the road leading from the turnpike near Smith's to Black Lake. From the testimony given on the examination, it appears that this man called at Smith's on the morning of the 25th October, and was at that time evidently insane. He called his name Nehemiah Taylor: said he was from the town of Halifax, Windham county, Vermont: he was dressed in a blue sailor's jacket, yellow Marseilles vest, and light drab pantaloons; common black wool hat; he appeared to be about 37 years of age, middling size, dark complexion. It is supposed that after he left Smith's, he wandered into the woods, and became exhausted by cold and hunger. When found he was entirely naked; his clothes were all found a few rods from him. Verdict of the jury—That he died in a fit of insanity.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENTS.

Col. Clark Crandall, member elect of the legislature for Steuben and Allegbany, was accidentally shot through the thigh by an intoxicated Indian, at Rushford, Alleghany county, on the 2d inst. The ball passed through the chamber floor, broke the thigh of Col. C. who was in the upper story, and lodged in his body. Hopes are entertained that the wound will not prove mortal.

On the 5th inst. in the town of Jersey, Steuben county, a son of Mr. Yauger, aged 13 years, was accidentally killed by another boy of the same age. The latter was putting up his rifle, when it unhappily went off, and the ball, after passing through the chamber floor, entered the back of the deceased and deprived him of existence.

The accounts from Germany all agree in stating, that the resolutions of the Diet of Frankfort meet with the strongest resistance in public opinion, and that the best informed persons consider their strict execution as dangerous or impracticable.

Letters from Berlin of the 9th instant states that the Prussian government has ordered the arrest of professor Guerres, a celebrated publicist, author of the work, entitled, "Germany and Revolution." Orders were issued to convey him to a fortress, but M Guerres has taken refuge at Frankfort, the Senate of which city, it is hoped will, in his case, display a little more energy than with regard to Col. London, Oct. 17.

The Paris papers of the 15th arrived yesterday. The apprehensions excited by the progress of the yellow fever at Cadiz increases daily. The total number of deaths in that city, in the week ending the 21st Sept. inclusive, was 333, of which 66 took place on the last day. The total number in the Isle of Leon was 337, of which 69 took place on the last day. All communication being interdicted, provisions have necessarily began to fail, and thus pestilence and famine together conspire against the population of these two places. The king went on Sunday in an open carriage to Vincennes.—Lord Whitworth has arrived at Paris. Lord and Lady Stewart arrived at Vienna, 30th last.

Miserable state of Spain.—A private letter in the Constitutionel Paris paper gives us a picture of Spain the most afflicting to humanity. There is in it really something beyond the ordinary recorded sufferings of nations. In one province, nothing but plots, arrests, informers, captivity, torture, and monks the judges, jailors and executioners. In another, sounds of joy and festivity for the king's marriage, mingle dreadfully with the groans of those who are dying with the fever, or as it is called the plague. The whole maritime border of Andalusia is infected. The expedition is abandoned. The military cloathings of the troops are burned by the public functionaries, to prevent contagion. Several English and French speculators who look out contraband goods in the transport vessels, with the connivance of the Spanish government, see their bales burned before their eyes, and are themselves exposed to, or actually perishing with the disease. The soldiers have deserted and fled from the plague; but bearing it with them wherever they go; and thus is Spain in danger of becoming one great Lazar, with which the rest of the "breathing world" should cut off all communication. This is too horrible. Their is one point in the letter which deserves particular attention. The transports have, it is stated, the fever on board, but some of the captains have broken the salutary regulations of confinement to which they were subjected, and fled. This disorder came in a vessel from the Havana. The lading was treasure, and the avidity of the famine of the Spanish government was too ravenous to await the usual period of quarrantine.

The Revenue.—The produce of the revenue for the last quarter is published, and we lament to observe that it exhibits, in comparison with the corresponding quarter of last year, a decrease of no less than 1,151,556*l.* The chief falling off appears in the customs; they are decreased 906,586*l.*; Excise ditto, 192,117*l.*; Stamps, 96,270*l.*; and Assessed Taxes, 5,976*l.* On the other hand, there is an increase in the Post Office of 15,000*l.*;—Land Taxes, 16,376*l.*; Miscellaneous, 28,478*l.*

According to the financial calculations of an opposition paper, the revenue of the current year is estimated at about £54,000,000 and the expenditure at 80,000,000. The deficiency, it is supposed, will be made up by borrowing from the sinking fund £2,000,000 and from the public £14,000,000.

It will be seen by our abstract of Tuesday's Gazette that parliament is to meet on the 23d of the next month. One of the first measures which rumor says will be submitted to its consideration by ministers, is an act of indemnity in favor of the Manchester magistrates, and those who acted under their authority on the 16th of August. Suspicions are also entertained that the suspension of the habeas corpus act for a limited period will be proposed, and that further restrictions will be suggested with regard to public meetings, for the purpose of putting down the radical reformers.

A morning paper states, as a rumor, gaining ground, that lord Sidmouth is to be sacrificed to the indignation of the country, and that lord Colchester is pointed out as his successor. We know not on what authority this statement rests.

It appears by the Paris journals that a French col. of engineers, named Guillermin, has proposed a plan for the conquest of St. Domingo. He submits, that Spain shall first cede her part of the island to France—next, that he shall have at his disposal "French ships now rotting in port," and "French soldiers languishing in idleness;" and he states that a society is prepared to advance the necessary funds for the expedition. The great premise from which the col. infers success is the subjugation of Toussaint Louverture, a skilful general with 35,000 devoted soldiers, by 25,000 French. But he forgets the expedition under Le Clerc, which proved so fatal. The ill success of Toussaint, moreover, could be easily accounted for otherwise, than according to the view of M. Guillermin.—But even supposing that 25,000 French might conquer 35,000 Haytians, could they do so now, when the population is so much improved in numbers, in intelligence, in strength, courage, and military training, and when manufactories for arms and ammunition are established throughout the island, at least as far as the dominions of Christophe extends.

A person pretending to be the sister of miss Patterson, who was married to Jerome Bonaparte, having lately in a letter written from Antwerp, accused M. De Cazes of having tortured her, and deprived her of property, the Journal de Paris answers the charge, in an article which states some facts concerning the lady in question not hitherto known. She now declares herself, says that paper, the daughter of George William Patterson, of Baltimore, maintained for ten years that she was born at Paris, and that her father was count Hervilly, who died in England. It has since been proved, that she was born neither at Paris nor at Baltimore, but at Strasburg, on the 17th of May, 1776; and that she is the daughter of Jaques Oberst, capt. in the regiment Rohan Soubise; that she was baptized under the name of Amelia, and not of Maria Ursula; and that her mother still lives at Rochelle, upon a pension of 4000 francs, which she enjoys on account of the services of her husband. The falsehood which she thus asserts respecting her birth ought to create caution in believing her other accounts. Being arrested at Rennes for seditious expressions, she was tried at Limogas and placed under surveillance at Poictiers. Conducted to Savoy by the measures which the authorities were obliged to take against her, the Sardinian government refused to receive her. She was then sent to Strasburg, and supported at the expence of government by the way.—With regard to property, she had none. She subsisted for 15 days on public charity at Renness, where, on her return to France, after travelling in Poland, Russia, and Germany, she tried to establish herself in 1814, as a teacher of English. The passport of indigence, and some insignificant papers were the only bank notes or property found on her at her arrest.

Blackburn, (Lancashire,) Oct. 13.

We were thrown into some alarm, in this place yesterday evening, by the appearance of a large party of Dragoons, headed by our constable (Mr. Kay) proceeding along our streets, for the purpose, as soon appeared, of executing an arrest of some persons. They proceeded immediately to the work-shop of one Miller, a blacksmith, whom they secured, and on searching his shop, eleven pikeheads were found on the premises. The prisoner was immediately carried before Doctor Whitaker, who after an examination of some length, committed him to Preston, to which place he was sent off in a post-chaise, accompanied by a proper escort.

I need hardly say, that the discovery of such dangerous weapons manufacturing here, excited no small sensations of the evils which the event brought together; nor did subsequent events tend to lessen our apprehensions; for, at 4 o'clock, this morning, a person, named Morris, a machine-maker, was brought here from Pike Law, near Belthorn, in this neighborhood, by a constable and a party of dragoons. It is understood that some pistols, bullets, and unfinished pikes, were found in his possession.

About 8 o'clock, another person, named Knowles, was brought here from Rawtanstall, escorted by a party of dragoons.

Both of these, after an examination, by Dr. Whitaker, were likewise committed to Preston. The Police are active in the pursuit of other individuals, who are suspected of being concerned in this infamous business, and hopes are entertained, from the clue that has been obtained, that none of them will be able to elude the pursuits of justice.

Berlin, October 5.

Our representative constitution will soon be determined upon. The king had at an early period appointed a committee of the council of state, to accomplish this important work. Three of the ministers of state afterwards travelled through all the provinces of the Kingdom, to consult the most enlightened inhabitants, and to acquire a local knowledge. Now that the obstacles are removed, or on the point of being so, the king has named a committee of a few members, of which prince Hardenberg is president, to draw up a complete project of a constitution. They will proceed without delay, and submit the result of their labors to the abovementioned committee of the council of state. The 13th article of the act of confederation, and the well known Edict of 23d May 1815, are the basis on which this work will be founded; and there is no doubt that it will be calculated, without exception, on the true welfare and wants of the nation, and of all classes composing it. The Prussian state has been often most unjustly reproached with not fulfilling the works of its king; nay, the evidence of foreign journals has gone so far as to assert that treasonable intrigues had been falsely alledged to exist, to have a pretext for not fulfilling the Royal promise. The tribunals may decide on those intrigues according to the law, but the accusation is too miserable to merit any thing but contempt. The above injust reproach is wholly unfounded. The writer then proceeds to shew the reasons which have hitherto prevented the introduction of a general constitution into Prussia, for almost all the provinces had representative constitution of their own, and the great difference between them was one of the main difficulties in drawwing up a constitution for the whole kingdom, which should be agreeable to all. The king issued his edict of May 23, 1315, quite volunrily and before the act of confederation was concluded, the new war increased the difficulties already subsisting, and it was certainly better not to be too precipitate, but to proceed coolly, and upon fixed principles, to the object in view, rather than raise in haste an imperfect and unsolid edifice to gratify the thoughtless clamor, of ill judged impatience.

SHORT COURTSHIPS AND HAPPY MARRIAGES.

It is well known that there are living in Trinidad, a number of free negroes brought off (how justly we do not enquire) from the American coast during the late war by Alexander Cochrane, and who let themselves out for hire, like the free laborers of any other country; but these persons being men and bachelors, a Sabine war was apprehended in the Island. It happened, fortunately, that in the last year, a slave ship was captured, containing only young girls from 16 to 20 years of age; and these becoming free by the existing abolition laws, were sent into Trinidad, and being placed under the custody of discreet matrons, the American negroes were invited to see them, and a small portion of land offered to each who should marry. The proposal was highly agreeable to the men, nor did these young ladies of landed property give themselves the airs which are sometimes observable in those who have that enviable possession in this country. The courtship was brief and sentimental: "I'll have that little girl," says one of the wooers; "I'll have that tall one," says another; and thus the whole were betrothed. When the day of marriage arrived, which was deferred twenty-four hours, in consideration of the feelings of the ladies, it happened somewhat unluckily that some of them had slipped their collars, and the enamoured bridegrooms were unable to distinguish their respective charmers. The ceremony, however proceeded. The clergyman was about to make short work of it, by requiring "these men to take "these women" to be "their wedded wives;" but the governor, Sir R. Woodforde, compelled him to marry each couple separately. The ceremonies lasted about four hours, during which time some of the bridegrooms recollected the objects of their love, and discovered that others had married them. The die was, however cast, and the exchanges made none unhappy. A gentleman lately arrived from the island, who communicated the above fact, says, that he saw them frequently several months afterwards, all apparently very happy and contented with their lot, and most of the ladies looking "as ladies wish to look who love their lords." [London Courier.

LORD, is a title of honor, given to those who are noble, either by birth or creation. In this sense it amounts to much the same as Peer of the Realm, or, Lord of Parliament. The title is by courtesy also given to all the sons of Dukes and Marquises, and to the eldest sons of Earls: and it is also a title of honor bestowed on those who are honorable by their employments, as Lord Advocate, Lord Chamberlain, Lord Chancellor, &c. The word is Saxon, but abbreviated from two syllables into one, for it was originally lllaford, which, by dropping the aspiration, became laford, and afterwards, by contraction, Lord. "The etymology of the word, says (Mr. Coates) is well worth observing: for it was composed of illaf, (a loaf of bread) and ford, (to give or afford): so that illaford, now Lord, implies, 'a giver of bread;' because, in those ages, such great men kept extraordinary houses, and fed all the poor, for which reason they were called givers of bread, a thing now much out of date; great men being fond of retaining the title, but forgetting the practice for which it was first given."

From the Chillicothe Almanac.

BARLEY COFFEE.

It is a fact, perhaps unknown to many of our farmers, that Barley, when properly prepared, affords a beverage so similar, both in taste and colour, to the best Green Coffee, that nine persons out of ten, cannot discover the difference. This fact I now know by experience. At first it was with difficulty I overcame my own and the prejudices of my family in favor of Coffee so far as to give the Barley a single trial; but having done so, I tested the truth of the experiment, and have continued in the use of it ever since, which is now about six months. The saving which this has made for one article of family consumption is considerable. My family formerly used two pounds of Coffee per week, which for six months, at 50 cents per lb. the lowest price it has sold for some time past, would be 52 lbs. or 26 dollars; now for the same term of time they have used at the rate of half a bushel of Barley per month, which, at one dollar per bushel, the retail price, would be three bushels, or three dollars. In other words the use of foreign coffee for one year, will cost me fifty-two dollars in specie, whereas the use of barley raised in my own neighborhood, will cost me only six dollars in the currency of the state—making an annual saving of 46 dollars to one family.—Now it will readily be admitted, that there are in Ross at least 1000 families—these, if they would abandon the use of coffee for barley, would produce a saving of 46,000 dollars annually to the county. It is ascertained that the merchants of Chillicothe alone, anually import coffee to the amount of 40,000 dollars—this certainly requires 40,000 dollars of our products to pay for. Is it not very plain, then, that if we stop the use of Coffee, by substituting Barley in its place, there will be an annual saving to the county of 40,000 in favor of our own products, which must be returned to us in SPECIE instead of coffee.—This Sum alone kept in circulation among us, would sensibly relieve the difficulty of the times. Economy is progressive, and goes from individuals to families, thence to counties, states and governments. In times like the present, when we are hedged in with difficulties, none should hesitate to try an experiment so simple, where the advantages are obviously so great. Beware of little expences, and remember 'that a penny saved is two pence earned.'

The manner of preparing barley is as follows:—Take clean good barley and wash it well through two or three waters, in order to separate the dust, light and blighted grains; then put it into boiling water over the fire, and let it boil until it swells sufficient to burst some of the grains: then take it off and drain it and dry it in the sun, or in an oven after baking, or it may be dried slowly by the fire. It is then ready to parch as coffee, but be careful not to burn it; grind and use it, as you would coffee, clearing it with eggs. Barley used in this way, I have known to deceive some of the best judges. Rye and wheat, treated in the same way, answers the purpose, but is not so good as Barley.

Extracts from a Law

Of the Corporation to provide for the speedy extinguishment of Fire, &c.

Sec 1. That every proprietor of any dwelling house, or store house within the limits of the corporation, shall, at his or her own expence, provide as many fire buckets, made of good and suitable leather, and containing at least two and a half gallons, as shall be equal in number to the stories in such house. Provided, That no proprietor shall, in any case be compelled to provide more than three buckets for one house. Every proprietor who shall neglect to procure the proper number of buckets in the manner herein directed, shall forfeit and pay one dollar per month for each bucket he shall so neglect to procure. The proprietors of all dwelling houses and store houses which shall hereafter be erected within the corporation, shall furnish the same with buckets in the manner before prescribed, within two months after such houses shall be occupied; or failing to do so, shall be subject to the penalties before mentioned.

2. Where the proprietor of any dwelling house or store house residing out of the limits of the corporation, shall neglect to comply with the requisitions of this act, the occupier of such house shall within two months after coming to the possession thereof, procure the necessary buckets; and failing to provide the same, shall be subject to the like penalties as are in such case imposed on the proprietor.

5. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of police, once in six months at least, to visit the houses within the limits of the corporation to examine and take an account of the buckets belonging to such houses, and to report to the mayor the names of all persons who shall neglect to p ovide and keep the same, according to the requisitions of this act.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Thursday, the 11th inst. a negro man, named DICK, who sometimes calls himself Dick Douglas. He is a small man about 5 feet 6 inches high, and is not a very black man. I purchased him from the estate of Edgar McCarty, esq. Cedar Grove, Fairfax county, Va. and it is likely that he may be lurking about that neighborhood or Colchester, as he has a wife at capt. Berry's of the latter place; or he may have gone to Loudoun county, as he has lived there in the neighborhood of Wm. McCarty and John McCarty, near Leesburg. He had on and took with him an old grey cloth coat and a brown do pantaloons of drab colored domestic cloth. He is much addicted to liquor, and is a coarse shoemaker. I will give 20 dollars if taken in the district of Columbia. Thirty dollars if taken in Fairfax county, and the above reward if apprehended in any other place, and secured so that I get him again; and reasonable charges if brought home. WM. B. STUART.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, lying near Aldie, Loudoun county, Virginia, on the night of the 11th inst. a negro man, who calls his name NED BIAYS. He is a shrewd, intelligent negro, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high; 30 years of age, well made, active and polite. Had on when he went away, a sky colored coat, and corded pantaloons. His right eye sore, apparently occasioned by a blow, the blood having settled around it. His ears have been pierced, and had green silk in them when he went away. It is expected he is now lurking about Fairfax court-house and Aldie. The above Ned Biays ran away on the night of the 25th of last Aug. and was caught on the 11th inst. on the night of which he effected his elopement by drawing the staple to which he was fastened by the handle of a pan, while there was no person in the kitchen but himself. He was caught on the 11th inst. a few miles below Aldie, but I think it improbable that he has gone near the same place again. I will give 100 dollars if he is taken out of the county, and fifty if taken in the county, and secured so that I get him again, and all reasonable charges if brought home. GEO. GULICK.
P. S. It is supposed that the said negro has obtained papers of freedom, or a free pass, or something of the kind. G. G.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.
I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.
I. T STODDERT,

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY on the 25th of April last, a man called NED, formerly the property of Mr. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax, and by him sold to Hepburn & Dundas. He had on when he went away an old country blue and white cloth coat, and kersey trowsers—his right hand in a sling, in consequence of the kick of a horse. Ned is a stupid looking fellow, and hesitates very much when he speaks. I will give fifty dollars if apprehended in the District, or the above reward for apprehending him out of the District, so that I get him again.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.
S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.
N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.
S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much co fusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WM. MASON.
